USEFUL INFORMATION

What funds to take with you?

The currency in Senegal is the CFA franc (XOF). Avoid exchanging large amounts of CFA francs for foreign currency anywhere other than at reputable exchange offices. ATMs are widespread and reliable in Dakar, but banking services are infrequent in the rest of the country and withdrawal limits can be quite low. Credit cards are accepted in major establishments that welcome tourists. A commission is often added for their use. However, you will still need cash. Taxi drivers, some travel agencies, small shops, markets, etc. will only accept cash.

What should I bring with me to Senegal?

- A photocopy of your passport - as it is always advisable to carry your ID with you.
- Insurance - you are responsible for arranging your own travel cover.
- Credit cards - Visa, MasterCard, Amex and American Express
- Medical kit - always a good option when needed.
- Mosquito repellent spray

What time zone is Senegal in?

Greenwich time zone (GMT)

Can I drink water in Senegal?

It is strongly recommended that you drink bottled water (which is sealed) when you are there.

What voltage is used?

If you bring electronic devices to Senegal, the standard voltage is 230 Volts.
